

REMEDICATION AND REDEVELOPMENT (RR) NEWS FROM WISCONSIN DNR
March 29, 2001

RETURN OF PUBLICATIONS TO THE WEB

The RR Program has returned certain publications to our web site that had been removed until the intent of a new legislative mandate could be determined. We have recently learned that the mandate centered on lists of DNR license and registration holders, not information about contaminated sites. We also plan to return the BRRTS ASCII data extracts to the web after we complete necessary programming and address other concerns. The publications that we have now returned to the web are:

- Registry of Waste Disposal Sites in Wisconsin, Publication RR-108, a listing of sites where solid or hazardous wastes have been or may have been deposited. (6/1/99)
- Wisconsin Remedial Response Site Evaluation Report (WRRSER), Publication RR-504, data on the locations, status, and priority of sites with known or likely environmental pollution. (10/1/95)
- UST Site Assessment Log, Publication RR-549, a list of UST tank site assessments where DNR did not request a site investigation.

BROWNFIELDS 2001 - CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS

The national brownfields conference, Brownfields 2001, is being held this year from September 24-26 in Chicago. The conference is seeking work/research-based presentations from stakeholders who perform and/or are concerned with the assessment, cleanup and redevelopment of abandoned, idled or under used commercial and industrial sites. The deadline on the call for presentations is April 20, 2001. Brownfields 2001 will encourage and promote the exchange of information, procedures and techniques related to the revitalization of brownfields through its numerous conference sessions and exhibits. If you have information to help others overcome the challenges associated with these properties, Brownfields 2001 is the place for you to present and share your work/research in order to make a difference. For an abstract submittal form and more information on Brownfields 2001, visit:

PHOENIX AWARDS

The Phoenix Awards recognize groups and individuals that are making a difference in transforming abandoned industrial areas into productive uses. The awards showcase successful solutions that are both innovative and practical. The Phoenix Awards will be presented at the National Brownfields Conference in Chicago September 24-26. One winner will be selected from each of EPA's 10 regions. More information and an application are available on-line at
